Get a CPD boost at BILD events

BILD, the British Institute of Learning Disabilities, is offering the chance to gain continuous professional development (CPD) recognition for those attending its events. The first opportunity to do this comes on 29 September with their event, 'Rights, risk and restraint – an introduction to a human rights approach to implementing positive behaviour support'. All 21 events in BILD's new one day events programme for the next year will offer CPD certification.

Determined to support the professional development of the workforce that supports people with learning disabilities, BILD has joined with CPD Certification Service to ensure that its events are assessed and certified for CPD to encourage staff to continue their own personal professional development programme.

"Our events already offer those attending the chance to hear about best practice and new ideas, and to share experiences with others working in the same field," said Keith Smith, BILD Chief Executive, "now they can also contribute to a recognition of personal and professional development – always useful for those seeking to develop their career".

For more details about these events and how the CPD benefits apply, contact BILD on 01562 723025 or visit www.bild.org.uk/events

Notes:

BILD (The British Institute of Learning Disabilities) is based in Kidderminster, Worcestershire and was founded in 1971.

BILD's vision is a society where people with learning disabilities are equal citizens and have access to the support and services they need. We work to make this happen in partnership with people with a learning disability and family carers. They are the real 'experts', knowing what support is needed, and what needs to change to improve the quality of their lives.
