Positive behaviour support: defining good practice for children and young people

This one day national partnership event will bring together several organisations and participants who will share expertise and experiences.

This event is aimed at highlighting good practice in schools and other services for children and young people with additional needs or disabilities who also display behaviour that can be challenging.

This event will highlight positive ways of working and discuss how we can recognise and address poor practice. The event will seek to explore aspects of positive behaviour support while also discussing

- reducing the use of reactive management strategies
- the importance of policy development
- the importance of workforce support and development
- changing the operational environment and culture

This event will enable participants from a variety of service settings to explore issues which are current for them, relate to practice and gain further understanding of research.

Aims of the event

- To be evidence based
- To encourage positive approaches for supporting children and young people
- To place an emphasis on reducing the use of restrictive practices
- To highlight current practice issues
- To explore workforce development
- To enable reflective practice

Who should attend

The conference will be of interest to a multi disciplinary audience of practitioners in education, health and social care as well as parents and carers.
