

Acknowledgements and thanks

Department of Health	For funding this project
Annie Lawton, Independent Advocate	For her contribution and advice on the role of advocacy
Rick Henderson, Action for Advocacy	For his article on non-instructed advocacy
Viv Cooper, Challenging Behaviour Foundation	For her contribution on implications of complaining for those labelled as having challenging behaviour
'Rachel' and her mother	For the story of Rachel and her day services
'Hugh' and his sister	For the story of Hugh and his pain
Allyson Kent	For her story of how to make complaints lead to a better outcome for people with learning disabilities
Margaret and Peter Flynn	For their published story of their complaints experience
Caroline Heason, ICAS (South of England Advocacy Projects)	For her contribution on the work of ICAS
Somerset Advocacy Management Group	For contributing their experiences of complaints and provision of a logo
Build for the Future	For contributing experiences of complaints and suggestions on helping those who are seldom heard
ASIST	For their Watching Brief leaflet
Shonali Routray Public Concern at Work	For the advice on support for whistle blowing
Jo Watson SCOPE Victoria	For sharing her supported decision making model

Angela Hargreaves Calderstones NHS Trust	For sharing her staff awareness session outline
John Ladle Acting Up	For his contribution about multi media profiling
Charles Levinson BigEars training	For his contribution about multi media profiling
Bev Dawkins and Louisa Whait MENCAP	For advice and suggestions around people with profound and multiple learning disabilities
Martin Goodwin	For contributions on creative ways of communicating and listening to people with profound disabilities
Kate Duncalfe, Doncaster Advocacy	For her contribution on the use of creative communication
Kerry Walsh, Cambridge PMLD Advocacy	For her contribution on the role of non instructed advocacy
Nigel Joseph, The Daffodil Advocacy project	For his contribution on the role of non instructed advocacy
Jeanne Carlin, Freelance Disability Consultant	For her advice and support to the project
Annie Fergusson, Centre for Special Needs Education and Research, School of Education University of Northampton	For her advice and support to the project
Ann Craft Trust	For advice and support to the project
Members of the Foundation for People with Learning Disabilities Forums	For interest and shared experiences contributed to the project
Toby Strickland and Dave Probert, Crocodile House	For their support and creative input to the finished CD Rom