General Approach to Teaching Physical Interventions
Training is delivered solely for staff who work within The Truecare Group. The course is delivered as a 5 day introduction to recognising, preventing and managing violence and aggression. The training is balanced to ensure that candidates are aware of the many factors, which could lead to use of physical interventions and many strategies that could be employed to reduce the need for the intervention in the first place. The training does not advocate the use of pain in any form. Our ethos is built upon the principles in “Valuing People” and is that physical interventions should be taught in conjunction with training in the prevention of aggression or violence.
