

Working together charter

At Bild we are committed to working together. This means working in partnership with people with lived experience. Working together makes sure that we develop solutions that work for the people we are here to support. This document talks about the core principles that guide us in working together.

Our charter

We value and respect each other

Our commitments:

We work and plan together to find solutions

Our commitments:

We make reasonable adjustments and support each other

We make sure resources are accessible

Our commitments:

